Unfortunately, sometimes the Norton 360 firewall is a little too effective and blocks program activity that you actually want it to allow.. Norton 360 includes a utility that will clean up unnecessary files from your computer, it will automatically back up crucial files in the online storage that you receive with your subscription, and it installs a powerful firewall application that protects you from malicious attacks from the outside world. You can even configure your Norton 360 firewall settings to best protect the data being sent to and from your computer.. You will note that Norton 360 is giving me a notification that my online backup storage is low, which means that I need to either change the items that I am backing up from my computer, or I need to purchase more online storage from them.. If you know the program to be safe, then select the Auto or Allow option Once you have finished adjusting your settings, click the Apply button at the bottom of the window.. Scroll through the list of Norton 360 firewall settings for your programs until you locate the program whose settings you want to modify.. Your options include Allow, Block, Custom and Auto If the Block option is set for a particular program, then that program cannot access the Internet, which could cause it to behave improperly.
